FOR YOUR FLIGHTS ONLY

Victorinox has been known to test the resilience of its watches by dropping them from weather balloons in the stratosphere, and the Swiss manufacturer's knives are standard issue for Nasa. Now the firm has released a luggage range that can make even business travel feel like a James Bond mission. Victorinox's new Lexicon Global Carry-On suitcases feature dual-coil, theft-proof zips and an integrated Travel Sentry Approved combination lock. There is also a sliding ID tag, which conceals a USB port, a pen and a sim card replacement tool. Advanced moulding technology allows for super-recessed wheels and handles, meaning that the Lexicon has more packing space than other cases in its class. And you can fit your tux into the 'removable full suiter' - which is definitely worthy of Q.

HOTEL SUGGESTION

Erosantorini

Shade Hotel, Manhattan Beach

Live Aqua, Cancun

REASONING

'Rozay' has slimmed down considerably but we sense he'd like Santorini's largest infinity pool. Designed by Paola Navone, this hotel has an underwater sound system, a wellness terrace for 'RossFit', open air cinema, a chapel and a beach to jog on alone in Versace.

Where better for the rapper who took on the world in Control, than a place called Shade? Humble he may be, poor he ain't - so K-Dot needs a spectacular hotel. Near the beach and Brock Daughters surf shack, it has the sort of swimming pool that will have you yelling "Drank!".

Dabbing in the latest fashions? Pocket full of cottage? New 'Rari'? Live Aqua is the only resort good enough for the likes of Quavo, Offset and Takeoff. The only drawback is that the weather is unsuitable for the wildebeest-esque Italian fur you bought your significant other.
