

ELAION was very privileged to host the Swiss Chef star Irma Dütsch, together with husband Jurg, in Athens.

Irma, the first Michelinstar awarded woman, is considered the Doyenne of the Swiss Culinary establishment. She has won countless awards from international institutions – Alpes Latines, Strasbourg Parliament, the Tour du Monde en 80 Toques, Clef d'or, Gault-Millau, Michelin – as well as the Swiss title 'Chef of the Year' in 1994.

Irma Dütsch proudly bears the title of one of the most famous women in Switzerland. She is the author of many cookbooks that diverge huge numbers and are popular among successful chefs and gourmet cooks. Her recipes are inspired by her home cooking.

Although officially retired, she still travels the world as a consultant. Irma Dütsch was, and still is, a frequenter guest chef in many major cities and countries such as London, Munich, Stockholm, Hong Kong, Japan, Australia and others, and is actively touring the world following her own culinary program (<https://www.irmaduetsch.ch>).

As part of her 'must see and taste' schedule, Irma honoured Elaion by her visit in Athens. She was happy to meet the team and taste our extra virgin olive oil before attending dinner with our CEO, Constantine Scrivanos and our new partner team of FILOTIMO AG, which is based in Zurich and among other activities owns the famous greek restaurant "Zum Griech".
